Reyna Reynaga-Vagas is a Charge Nurse at the Arlanza Family Health Center in Riverside. Her busy practice vaccinates about 15 to 30 young patients a day.

After using CAIR for about two years now, Reyna is happy to be talk about what she likes. For one thing it’s fast. First of all, on the day of the appointment, the patient’s records are already updated. And after they get their vaccines it just takes me a few minutes to put in the new information.

Before, everything was on paper. If the parents didn't bring the immunization card was really hard to see if their kids were up-to-date. But now, even the schools can have access to those records!

Plus, there are things that are so much easier now. For example, all my patients can be checked by providers at each appointment to see if they have missing immunizations.

There are lots of things CAIR helps me do on the job: printing out the patient’s immunization record, reminder cards, etc. I especially like the weekly inventory report that makes the accountability of vaccines so easy!

Reyna wants to encourage staff in other clinics by reassuring them that CAIR is user-friendly too. “It took a few hours to learn. That’s it. It’s really easy!”

When asked if she would ever go back to a clinic without CAIR, Reyna had this one word to say: No!
